OUR DREAM

Rick and Cindy Mulkins are home remodeling enthusiasts who spent fifteen years working on home improvement projects in Chicago's opulent Northshore with exceptional interior designers and remodelers. During that time, they developed a passion for home improvement and interior design, as well as servanthood. Rick eventually persuaded Cindy and their large family to relocate to Central Illinois, where he grew up, to embark on a new adventure, founding Cinric.

Cinric has grown exponentially as a result of their deep desire to provide an extraordinary experience paired with superior craftsmanship. They are dedicated to family, faith, and elevating the profession by hiring exceptional employees who are equally concerned about their work and community impact.

CABINET REFINISHING

Have you ever wondered how your existing cabinets would appear if they were painted in a fresh new color and given a factory-quality finish? Cabinet painting is a cost-effective alternative to a kitchen renovation. When it comes to cabinet refinishing, we've devised methods and procedures that allow us to offer unrivaled results. The quality is impressive, but the cost savings are equally so.

FAMILY HERITAGE

Cinric Painting has a rich history that spans back decades. In the early 1960s, Bill Mulkins began his painting career in Springfield, Illinois. He convinced his son, Rick Sr., and two other sons to follow his career path due to his love for the industry. Years later, Rick Jr. quickly became introduced to the industry, working alongside his father during summer breaks and college. Today, Rick Mulkins Jr., owner of Cinric Painting, is a third-generation painter who proudly carries on the family tradition that began nearly sixty years ago.

COMMERCIAL PAINTING

Our Corporate clients range from Fortune 500 companies to privately held corporations, emerging companies, and family-run businesses.

We have earned our reputation as an excellent partner with businesses both large and small. The projects we handle range from complex and intricate to simple recoats. This versatility has become invaluable as we have grown.

CRAFT PROFICIENCY

We combine skill and character to embrace an exceptional result for our clients time and again. Anything short of top-quality service is no service at all. Every project is given careful attention to ensure premier results. Our team will work with you to choose colors that fit your personality and design aesthetic. We use premium Sherwin Williams and Benjamin Moore products to ensure a durable and lasting finish.
